

99+

Mail

Chat

Spaces

Meet

Compose

Inbox355

Starred

Snoozed

Sent

Drafts1

More

Labels+

Search in mail

Active

1 of 797

Jesús A. Valero Matas<soctecno@uva.es>

to Muhammad, Isran, Ankarlina, Slamet, Angus

02-Dec-2022

Revision request for "Overtourism in Indonesia After the COVID-19 Pandemic: A Social Psychology Perspective"

ExternalInbox x

Wed, Dec, 2, 20229:12

Dear Muhammad Yamin,

Following is a reviewer's recommendation for your manuscript titled "Overtourism in Indonesia After the COVID-19 Pandemic: Social Psychology Perspective."

Reviewer 1:

Thank you for submitting your manuscript titled "Overtourism in Indonesia After the Covid-19 Pandemic: Social Psychology Perspective" for review. I appreciate your effort to address the important issue of overtourism in Indonesia, especially in the context of post-pandemic recovery. Here are my suggestions and recommendations regarding the originality of your work:

Literature Review: The literature review section is comprehensive, but it could benefit from a more in-depth analysis of previous research on overtourism and social psychology, specifically in the context of Indonesia. Consider including more recent publications and findings from both international and local sources. Also, try to establish the novelty of your work by highlighting the gaps in existing literature and how your study contributes to filling those gaps.

Theoretical Framework: While the application of social psychology to overtourism is an interesting approach, the theoretical framework could be further strengthened by incorporating specific theories, models, or concepts from social psychology that have not been previously applied to the overtourism issue. This will showcase the innovative nature of your study and emphasize its unique contribution to the field.

Methodology: Provide a detailed explanation of the methodology used in your study, including the choice of the research design, data collection methods, and data analysis techniques. Emphasize how your methodology sets your work apart from previous research in this area. If you have employed any novel methods or techniques, ensure that these are well-explained and justified.

Case Studies: In order to enhance the originality of your work, consider incorporating case studies from various tourist destinations across Indonesia that demonstrate the impacts of overtourism from a social psychology perspective. This would not only provide a richer understanding of the phenomenon but also allow for a more comprehensive analysis of the various factors contributing to overtourism in different contexts within the country. Comparing and contrasting these case studies can help identify unique insights and patterns that may not have been previously explored.

Discussion and Implications: Ensure that your discussion goes beyond a mere summary of your findings. Focus on the unique aspects of your research and how it contributes to a deeper understanding of the social psychology of overtourism in Indonesia. Discuss the theoretical, methodological, and practical implications of your findings, and highlight their significance for policymakers, tourism industry stakeholders, and the academic community.

Future Research Directions: Clearly outline the limitations of your study and suggest possible avenues for future research in the field. By identifying research gaps and proposing new research questions, you will further emphasize the originality and potential impact of your work in the area of overtourism and social psychology.

In summary, your manuscript shows promise, and with a stronger focus on the unique aspects of your research, it can make a significant contribution to the study of overtourism in Indonesia from a social psychology perspective. By addressing the above suggestions, you will not only enhance the originality of your work but also provide valuable insights for future research and policy development in this important field.

Reviewer 2:

Thank you for submitting your manuscript titled "Overtourism in Indonesia After the Covid-19 Pandemic: Social Psychology Perspective" for review. As the second reviewer, I concur with many of the points raised by the first reviewer, and I appreciate your efforts to examine the issue of overtourism in Indonesia from a social psychology perspective. Here are additional suggestions and recommendations to complement those provided by the first reviewer:

$$\begin{array}{c} \text{—} \text{—} \\ \text{—} \text{—} \\ \text{—} \text{—} \end{array}$$

Meet

 Compose

 Inbox 355

☆ Starred

🕒 Snoozed

➤ Sent

 Drafts 1

More

Labels +

1 of 797 &lt; &gt;

Reviewer 2:

Thank you for submitting your manuscript titled "Overtourism in Indonesia After the Covid-19 Pandemic: Social Psychology Perspective" for review. As the second reviewer, I concur with many of the points raised by the first reviewer, and I appreciate your efforts to examine the issue of overtourism in Indonesia from a social psychology perspective. Here are additional suggestions and recommendations to complement those provided by the first reviewer:

Contextual Background: To strengthen the originality of your work, provide a comprehensive background on the current state of tourism in Indonesia, especially in the aftermath of the Covid-19 pandemic. Discuss the specific challenges faced by the tourism industry and the various measures taken by the government, local communities, and other stakeholders to address overtourism.

Interdisciplinary Approach: Considering that overtourism is a complex and multifaceted issue, incorporating perspectives from other disciplines, such as anthropology, geography, or environmental studies, can enhance the originality of your study. By integrating these perspectives, you can provide a more holistic and nuanced understanding of the various factors contributing to overtourism in Indonesia.

Stakeholder Perspectives: To enrich your analysis, consider incorporating the viewpoints of various stakeholders, including tourists, local communities, policymakers, and tourism industry representatives. This will not only provide a more comprehensive understanding of the issue but also highlight the unique social psychological aspects of overtourism from different perspectives.

Strategies and Solutions: Discuss potential strategies and solutions for addressing overtourism in Indonesia, both from a social psychology perspective and a broader context. By providing innovative and context-specific recommendations, you can emphasize the practical implications of your research and its potential impact on policy and industry practices.

Comparative Analysis: To further enhance the originality of your work, consider conducting a comparative analysis of overtourism in Indonesia and other countries with similar tourism patterns or challenges. This will allow you to identify unique aspects of overtourism in Indonesia and draw valuable lessons from international experiences in addressing this issue.

Visual Aids: Incorporate relevant visual aids, such as maps, graphs, and charts, to support your arguments and findings. This will not only make your manuscript more engaging and accessible but also highlight the unique aspects of your research.

In conclusion, your manuscript addresses an important and timely issue, and with careful attention to the suggestions provided by both reviewers, it can make a valuable contribution to the study of overtourism in Indonesia from a social psychology perspective. By refining your theoretical framework, methodology, and analysis, you can further emphasize the originality and potential impact of your work in the field of overtourism and social psychology.

In closing, I want to reiterate my appreciation for your efforts to examine the issue of overtourism in Indonesia from a social psychology perspective. Your manuscript has the potential to make a significant contribution to the existing body of knowledge in this field. By carefully considering and incorporating the recommendations and suggestions provided by both reviewers, you can further enhance the originality, rigor, and impact of your work.

We look forward to receiving your revised manuscript and continuing the review process. Please do not hesitate to reach out if you have any questions or require clarification on the feedback provided.

Sincerely,

Sociología y Tecnociencia

<https://revistas.uva.es/ojs3/index.php/sociotecno>

← Reply

↪ Forward