Warsono El Kiyat, Elvira Syamsir, Slamet Budijanto:

Thank you for the interest to publish your paper in the Communications in Science and Technology. Your manuscript entitled: "Potential of lacto-N-biose i as a prebiotic for infant health: A review" has been evaluated by referees and we are pleased to inform you about the provisional acceptance of the manuscript - first stage of reviewing process.

In the second stage of manuscript preparation by CST Editorial Office, you may be required to supply some additional clarifications and corrections.

This procedure will be executed during Copyediting actions, with a demand to perform corrections of unclear parts before the manuscript would be formally published in CST. Please note that the manuscript can receive the status of final rejection if the corrections would not be satisfactory.

Initially, we suggest you to improve the English of the provisionally accepted manuscript by Professional English Editing and please submit both the proof of certificate and the edited manuscript to editorial-cst@kipmi.or.id (cc: editorial.cst@gmail.com).

Alternatively, we offer you to use the service of English Editing by our Publisher:

<https://kipmi.or.id/scientific-product/index.php?m=service&f=editing>

We recommend you to select "Common Editing" based on the reviewer's comment and manuscript's English quality.

The late of English Editing process of your manuscript will delay the publication process such as copyediting, proofread and online-published. Hopefully, the proof of certificate and the edited manuscript can be received by CST Editorial Office no longer than 10 days. Otherwise, we may postpone the publication in the next edition.
